INDIA: FROM A MILK-DEFICIT NATION TO A MILK-PRODUCTS EXPORTER

The evolution of the dairy sector in India and the stellar role played by dairy cooperatives since the launch of Operation Flood form an integral part of the country's remarkable growth story after Independence.

The dairy sector assumes a great deal of significance for India on various accounts. As an industry, it employs more than 80 million rural households, with the majority being small and marginal farmers as well as the landless. The cooperative societies have not only made the farmers self-sufficient but have also broken the shackles of gender, caste, religion, and community. Women producers form the major workforce of the dairy sector in the country. The sector is an important job provider, especially for women, and plays a leading role in women's empowerment.

Indian Dairy Industry: Galore of business opportunities

Factors like - increasing urbanization, increasing disposable income, transforming in to a health conscious society, emphasis & growth in cold chain infrastructure in India; growing consumption of dairy value-added products like ice-creams, cheese, sweets etc., increasing participation of private sector and milk and milk based products being one of the important part of Indian food culture clearly indicate on the tremendous business opportunities in the dairy industry in the years to come.

Indian Dairy Association (IDA), the apex body for the dairy Industry in India, has been providing a common forum to knit the fraternity together and thus, over the years, it has emerged as an important knowledge centre. The members are from the cooperatives, MNCs, corporate bodies, private institutions, educational institutions, government and public sector units. IDA functions very closely with the dairy producers, professionals & planners, scientists & educationists, institutions and organisations associated with the development of dairying in India.

VA Exhibitions Pvt.
